By Carla on Thursday, December 30, 1999 - 04:53 pm:

We may have someone from this Virtual Sex Machine company on the show as a guest:

<http://www.feelthe.net/>

It looks like there's a box that hooks into your computer and then you attach a special vibratory device to the box. They say it can be synchronized to video or controlled via chat. What do you all think? Hopefully we'll get all the panelists try it out at home!

Where do we go from here?

Posted by Weslito on December 28, 1999 at 15:02:20:

Greetings All,

Throughout my short stay on this board it has become somewhat clear that we all have a pretty good idea where we all are both individually and in the bigger picture.

But now what? Where do we go from here?

s--- Happens

Monday, 13-Dec-1999 03:34:35

Buddhism: If s--- happens, it isn't really shit.

Islam: If s--- happens, it is the will of Allah.

Islam #2: If s--- happens, kill the person responsible.

Islam #3: If s--- happens, blame Israel.

Fundamentalism: If s--- happens, you will go to hell, unless you are born again.

Fundamentalism #2: If s--- happens to a televangelist, it's okay.

Judaism: Why does this s--- always happen to us?

Calvinism: s--- happens because you don't work.

Creationism: God made all shit.

Darwinism: This s--- was once food.

Capitalism: That's MY shit.

Communism: It's everybody's shit.

Feminsim: Men are shit.

Commercialism: Let's package this shit.

Stoicism: This s--- is good for me.

Existentialism: s--- doesn't happen; s--- IS Atheism: What shit?

Atheism #2: I can't believe this shit!

Nihilism: No shit

Agnostic: s--- might have happened; then again,maybe not.
Agnostic #2: Did someone shit?
Agnostic #3: what is this shit?
Satanism: SNEPPAH TIHS.
Hedonism: There is nothing like a good s--- happening!

"Insight please..."

Posted by Donna C on Dec-05-99 at 07:08 PM (EST)

One thing is bothering me the most about this whole situation. My husband broke all of the typical stereotypes- with the exception of the dirty socks and underwear laying throughout the house. He was not a sex hound. He was very attentive... massages, occasional flowers for no reason, he did not treat me as though I were his ball and chain, he was very involved in my son's life (swimming lessons, baseball coach, boyscout leader etc.) By all appearances he was the perfect man. He was always where he said he was. Never worked overtime. He liked to cuddle and hold my hand in public.....
Now he has turned into the most inconsiderate jerk! Not apologizing for hurting me etc. How can this happen overnight? It is completely against evrything he ever said or done. I have never witnessed someone changing this drastically so fast. Anyone out there have any theories- no matter how crazy they may sound... it just seems as though he has a brain tumor or multiple personalites or SOMETHING???

Hi Mum-It is almost that time of year again and what a year it has been -Sandy dying suddenly-my best friend of 29 years I sure do miss her so badly-Aunt Nan is putting on a strong face we keep in touch a lot and hope to have a family barbecue before xmas.Then Dad getting diagnosed with lung cancer before xmas-I know you had your huge differences-I hope that in heaven peace and love overcome these things -dad is doing really well at the moment-and we are trying to develop a special relationship-something that you and I never got the chance to do and I regret this so much -also that you were so angry with me and the world when you passed on I hope with all my heart that you are at peace and look in on us sometimes and are no longer angry but proud of us.Then my friend Zhonda passed away a few weeks ago -from breast cancer-she was such an inspiration to me-I walk around different places at work and remember the different times we had lunch -how we laughed -had so much to talk about.....

I had a dream that my ex-husband came to me with a baby he had with his wife...he started to cry to me and said he didn't want it to happen and began pulling clumps of hair out of his head (thick straight black hair in large quantities) crying and handing them to me. I started to ask him why he was pulling his hair out and to stop hurting himself and I didn't know what to do with the clumps of hair.

What does this mean?

By the way, the reason I do not own a firearm is that I am manic depressive. My main concern is that I would hurt myself in a depression. I formerly harbored a great deal of anger with people who genuinely harmed me in the workplace, and this would flare into rage during my hypomanic phases. At those times, I was more likely to fantasize about bombing than shooting. There are many people out there who have fantasized awful violence, as I have, but have never took the first step in preparation to carry out the deed.

alone again
Posted by (209.52.121.177) alex on October 25, 1999 in 02:25:08:

Hello there, I've posted on here before...about various problems, they just keep coming in droves.... Tonight I'm scared and alone. Been fighting with my husband, I have no family or friends and I'm scared. It's just hit me, I'm completely alone, isolated, I have no one that actually knows me. My husband, he doesn't love me..or he wouldn't do the things he does, says the stuff he does. He would want to have sex with me, to tak time doing it, to enjoy it...he would want to see me rather than his frigging family.. I've been pushed this far...this week is the week i leave. Things aren't getting better and i'm not going to be afraid anymore. I have 2 jobs now, both of which i like vey much. i can do it, just have to take a deep breath.

For bringing back memories of a few of the most painful years of my life. Now before you think I'm being sarcastic, I have to tell you that a close friend of mine killed himself when I was 14, and to this day, I haven't quite forgiven him. Not only for leaving us, but for never telling us he wanted to. When I read your note on suicide, I cried. I wish so much that he'd given us the chance to say those things to him, but he never told us, he was everbody else's shoulder to cry on. You have no idea how many always-smiling faces hide thoughts of self-loathing, that no one's ears will ever hear. Maybe someone who needs them will find your words, and change his mind. Your friends are lucky people.

Don't you hate it when...

Friday, 15-Oct-1999 16:39:54 24.4.90.156 writes:

Hey Coz, don't you hate it when you're trying to sit at your computer and type, and your fat-ass cat decides to come sleep on you and your ass is getting sore from sitting on an unpadded chair and the extra added weight of a big ol' Dinner cat on your lap? And you don't wanna wake him up and move him 'cuz its just rude to wake a cat and put him somewhere else when he's napping ever so comfortably, plus they give you that dirty look like "Dude, i was sleeping there, what the hell is your problem?" So you try to shift around thinking "Well, maybe he'll wake up and get the hell off of me on his own," but he just shifts around too and falls right back asleep. Dude, that really bugs me. Oh yeah, i'll keep ya posted on the window. ;o) till later..

Is it my fault?

Posted by (209.53.128.51) anon on October 02, 1999 in 01:53:28:

Is it my fault? I need to know. I say and do stupid things to provoke my husband, and I always push him until he just 'flips'. He's never hit me, I honestly believe he wouldn't, but I have bruises from where he's grabbed me. He screams and pulls my hair and it's all very horrible. My face hurts from his rough handling.... Thing is, he's a diamond-a beautiful person. I know he is, and I know that he loved me once, and says he still does. He's lovely and he's done so much for me...I think I just provoke him so it's my fault..the things i say are just terrible.... Is it my fault? Do I deserve it? I know he feels awful, so sad and guilty...

I knew I loved him. I do- with all my heart. But, was I in love with him? At times when I feel that I'm so alone, an angel always comes along to help me find my way and be well again. I will never forget this special angel- he is a friend that I will have forever and always. He's knowledge and true understanding, his ability to help others is what I needed. The way he was able to read me like a book and see and understand what I was feeling can be done by so few people. I love you my angel and you know that. Because of you I am able to love again and am so grateful that I can. I can't believe that I'm in love again- may it always be that way. Thanks you special angel. May I always be able to help you like you helped me. Friends forever and always!!! Thank you for coming into my life and allowing me to be in yours. I know we'll stay.

FLATUPHILE SEEKS FEMALE TO FART ON MY FACE!!!

What's cooking!? Being an avid flatophile (fart enthusiast), I love nothing more than being able to witness the sights, smells and sounds of a woman as she passes wind. The creme de la creme is being farted on during a face sitting. Please keep in mind, you must be able to fart on command. Either that or be willing to ingest flatulence inducing foods. Take care and don't hesitate to leave email! Remember, FARTING is the most natural thing that one can do with their anatomies. We all do it, so why be shameful!? And why not incorporate it into sexual activity!? -Darrin
