motivation

I noticed that you (website writer) responded that you, as an athiest, attack the beliefs of the christians moreso than other religions. Are you aware also, that the same is true with most athiests, also attacking specifically the christian religion?

Play devil's advocate for a moment, and try to imagine for a moment, (as difficult as this may be for you) that there is a God. Imagine that he sent a son to earth and that was the only way to get to heaven. Then, imagine that you are the devil. Would you try to create other false religions (including athiesm) in which others could follow, to divert them from the truth. As the devil, wouldn't you be the brains behind the athiest belief? Of course you would. As leader of the athiest belief, would you waste time "attacking" religions that you know are not true, or would you concentrate on just attacking the one true religion?

If the belief in God is so ridiculous, why do you spend so much time (making an entire website) trying to fight it? Do you find comfort knowing others believe in what you believe? Just curious.

penis size, how big is too big

I don't think length matters as long as it's not ridiculously short. Girth is what counts. The fatter the better!

Sorry I don't have a tape measure or an example to measure!

Where is everyone? On the N54 board? It's starting to sound like the B Board. Wtih everyone talking about drug abuse, too much sex, and problems and such. I think people on that board need to lighten up. I didn't meant to offend JN when talking about Xanax(but I love's dem pills. In moderation of couse) and I'm sure Gui didn't mean to offend anyone. By the way, Gui can't be 16 years old. He has to be older. Gui, how old are you?! You've done too much cool and crazy artwork to be a kid!

I feel like taking a V righr now. I've got so much to do my head is spinning and I think my Boyfriend is mad at me. I'm not sure why. I always think:"It'sbecause I'm gaining weight" or"He saw me eating too much". Yeah, I'm a screw-ball. I admit it. Where's my pills?.....

Has anyone tried these POWER-NAPS. They work!

Power Napping; You wake up a couple of hours before you normally do,( a heavily saturated dream-time) And read about lucid dreaming. I get on the web like right now. After 30 mins. to an hour you go back to sleep convincing yourself that you are going to attain lucidity. It is a very effective trick. The way it seems to work is you are doing a lucid function during a time that your mind is primed for dreaming and you bring that sense of lucidity back into your dream world.

I don't really know why I'm so excited about this "purse" that Nick bought me today but, I am. It's a small, rectangular, silver metal box with a handle. I plan to solder(sp?) a single row of little spikes around the middle of it. OUCH! Does anyone have any idea if solder will be strong enough to hold the spikes on?

Abortion: Whose Choice?

Cathy Taylor - Saturday, 10/14/00, 6:31:36pm (#796 of 810)

I had read in a article that the bible states that a man cannot be held responsible for murder if beating their wife or something like that results in a miscarriage. I havent taken the time to research this but I think I should..Of course I dont always account each word there as his, after all, men were the actual writers of the book, and we know how they tend to stretch the truth when it aids their wishes..

Not my wish to judge though, just gives me something to think about..

RE: The destrutive circles..."

Blinded by pain.

Oh yes, I have been blinded by pain when I have allowed myself to get caught up in the pain rather than focusing on solutions.

> Those who have hurt, will you hurt another?

I have hurt numerous others over the years, but today it is not my desire to hurt anyone.

> Those who have felt pain, will you cause someone pain?

And I have felt much pain and caused much pain over the years, but I have learned that causing the pain of others is not a solution to the pain I feel.

for anyone who knows the answer (Joseph) edmond 1:14 pm thursday september 28, 2000

Need some help here. This shitty problem has been eating at me. You have a voltage divider with two resistors, R1 R2. You have an ideal voltmeter attached to R2--since it's ideal, it does not draw any current. What would the voltmeter read (V-out) if R1 goes to infinity? And if R2 goes to infinity?

The circuit will be broken in either case, right? So the voltmeter wouldn't read anything, right? But that's physical reasoning. I used the equation  $V\text{-out} = V\text{-in} * R2 / (R1 + R2)$  and computed  $V\text{-out} = 0$  for the former case, and  $V\text{-out} = V\text{-in}$  for the latter.

Let's get some academic stimulation on this board! Yeah!!!I'm lame!!!!

Well I guess it had to happen, yet another kid so stuck in his own little fantasy world has decided to visit, going by the names of Batrobe, or bat'n'ball or something. He fantasises he knows sorcery (huh!), that he studies psychology and he's even stated he's in the Marines for goodness' sake! Make up your mind little boy!

This child needs sedation and psychotherapy, he's basically a coward and cowards respond in very ugly ways. Child who thinks they're powerful, you need help, no one here wants to hurt you. Here's a guess little boy: You grew up with an absent father right? Either physically or emotionally absent. You fit the typical profile. You are predictable which is why you need to talk to someone real soon before you become a total object of pity. You need to be loved you loveless little thing. You live without the love of God don't you? Well, that's your fault.

You know what to do about that don't you? Start respecting yourself, and others. And stay in the spirit of the Bitch Board or bugger-off.

Security on the Net

Steve Mormando - Thursday, 08/24/00, 3:21:34pm (#1147 of 1153)

For me, personally, hackers have a good effect on the internet. I use their work when I'm copying games, and trying to get other software off the net. I would probably change my tune, however, if I had my credit card number stolen and my account shut down or something like that. For now, I'm on the side of the hackers.

Future man and machines

Kurt Schoedel - Friday, 06/30/00, 8:24:23am (#13 of 15)

The real issue here is that of individual autonomy. Of course, I want to be able to "upgrade" my body with nanotechnology so that I don't age, have IQ enhancement, maybe vision enhancement. I don't think that anyone would have a problem with being a nano-enhanced "cyborg", because you would still be an autonomous entity in a physical body.

However, I don't like the idea of being "plugged-in" to a computer network, or being "up-loaded" into a computer network, where I no longer have a physical body. In this case, you may no longer have individual autonomy, and that's what I would never go for.

My Daughter (she is only 5) went with her Dad (I am still married to him) to get his tags and his hair cut. She said they went to Dairy Queen and got banana splits with a woman they saw at the BMV. She said they sat outside. The lady had a baby, she sat her in the seat in her car seat. (My Daughter said that the baby's name was Amy) My Daughter said then that she took them to her house and the lady put the baby into her crib. My Daughter said she watched TV. My husband looked at a book with dirty pictures in it. My Daughter said that my husband and this woman went to the baby's room. My Daughter said they were very quite leaving the room. Then my daughter said that she snuck upstairs to the baby's room to look at the baby, and my husband and this woman were in the closet, and she said naked but she said the lady had her bra on. Later my daughter said that the lady took her bra off. My Daughter said she was peeking through the cracks. My Daughter said the my husband and the lady were kissing and hopping and making a little noise. Then my daughter said that she saw them put their cloths back on. My daughter then said she left the room. My Daughter said when my husband and the lady got downstairs, they got ready to leave. When they were leaving my daughter said that the lady yelled at my husband and said, never ever to come back again. She said that Daddy said, Please don't tell Mommy. Then my daughter said, don't tell Daddy, he'll get mad.....
